independentconsultantsneeded

Impact Learning Ltd is a provider of professional and consultancy services to education, business, and institutions.

We design and implement strategies for prevention and intervention in basic functional skills, specifically including new approaches to the acquisition and application of literacy, learning and thinking skills.

Through continuous development, we are seeking to appoint independent trainers / mentors / coaches to assist in the roll-out of these strategies

The successful applicants, after training and with continual support, will be required to deliver tailored training, coaching and modelling in learning, thinking, language and literacy skills to teachers and practitioners. They will be expected to manage and drive improved teacher/tutor practice through the provision of motivational and entirely pragmatic advice, further supported by the implementation of Impact Learning resources and techniques.

The preferred candidates will have secure evidence of good or outstanding practice within education in the last five years and be able to demonstrate work in a variety of educational settings. In addition they must be self-motivated and accountable, committed to facilitating, increasing and securing effective learning throughout all sectors of the community.
